Welcome!

Deep winter is the perfect time to stock up on books and more from your library. Learn new skills with online resources like Creativebug and LinkedIn Learning. Use the Library of Things to try something different, check out a museum pass for indoor fun, and take home a new game or puzzle for the whole family to try. Explore the online catalog at dpl.pub/catalog, and discover what we offer beyond the books at dpl.pub/beyond.

Libraries on the Move

The La Pine, Redmond, and Sisters Libraries

move to temporary locations in January to allow for construction of a new library in Redmond, and the remodeling of the libraries in La Pine and Sisters. See page 10 for more information and addresses, and be sure to note the locations of January programs for these libraries, which will happen off-site at community partner locations.

Using This Guide

You'll find full descriptions and more information for all programs on our web calendar at dpl.pub/calendar. The web calendar is also your go-to place for any programs that require registration. All library programs are free of charge. Because things sometimes change, be sure to check the web calendar before attending any in-person events.

PEOPLE

MAKING YOUR LIBRARY WORK

CUSTOMER PROFILE

LINDA & ALBERT ZLOTNIK

Aficionados of the great outdoors, Linda and Albert discovered their library provides ample reading materials about travel as well as opportunities to seek adventure. “Most recently we attended the Redmond Caves tour. The guide was an extremely knowledgeable archaeologist providing history and stories along the way,” said Albert. “We live in such a beautiful place, but when someone explains the geology behind what you’re looking at, it becomes a lot more interesting.” Each month, the library hosts dozens of cultural programs on a variety of fascinating topics—all for free. “My entire life I’ve made sure I can always find the nearest library,” says Linda. “Even though we moved here during the pandemic, I learned how to browse and check things out easily.” With so many opportunities to learn and explore through the library, the Zlotniks will have no trouble staying busy.

COVER ARTIST

MARTI BETZ

Artist Marti Betz loves to travel and explore Central Oregon on foot, bike, and cross-country skis. “This is where I fill myself up with beautiful ideas that get expressed in my work,” says Marti. The cover art is one way she gives back to her community while nourishing the next creative endeavor.

After a successful career in publication design, Marti wrote and illustrated a children’s book to help her granddaughter cope with a new baby in the family. One afternoon, while delivering extra copies of her book to the neighborhood’s

Little Free Library, she met a teacher who told her Deschutes County has a wonderful library system. From that tip, Marti joined the A Novel Idea program in 2020 and made it a family affair. “My granddaughter is now old enough that we both loved reading the 2021 selection, Front Desk by Kelly Yang,” said Marti. “I like to purchase these books and pass them on. As one writer and artist to another, I feel it’s important to support that community.”

STAFF PROFILE

ADAM FREITAG

Punk vocalist turned Public Services Specialist, Adam does a little bit of everything at the Downtown Bend Library. “My favorite part of working at the library is that I am here to simply help people,” Adam says. “Libraries provide the community a wealth of different resources and access to knowledge without the barriers to entry found elsewhere.” Adam’s top-notch customer service has opened a world of opportunity for many customers. “I love sharing all the different services and classes we offer the community but my personal favorite is still the books,” he says. When asked to choose a favorite book, Adam shared, “It’s hard to choose one because many books have impacted different parts of my life.” The Hitchhiker’s Guide to the Galaxy is a favorite that speaks to the silliness at his core—and even inspired a Don’t Panic tattoo. Adam and the library are a match made in Magrathea.

A LOT IS HAPPENING

at your libraries this winter beyond the normal fun story times and engaging programs. Some libraries close temporarily as we begin construction and renovation. Meanwhile, all libraries begin the process of moving from the Dewey Decimal System to Wayfinder, our new way of organizing collections.

Pardon Our Dust!

CONSTRUCTION AND REMODELING The La Pine, Redmond, and Sisters Libraries will all temporarily close starting in January to allow for construction (Redmond) and remodeling (La Pine and Sisters). We will have temporary locations open during the closures. Exact dates for closures and opening of temporary locations is still in flux, so keep an eye on dpl.pub/templocations, where we will share dates as soon as we have them finalized.

Temporary locations will be a place for limited browsing and for pick-up of holds. We are working with a number of community partners who are opening their spaces to us for library programming in La Pine, Redmond, and Sisters. When a program is being held off-site, you'll find that address listed in both this Events guide and in our web calendar (dpl.pub/calendar).

The other three libraries—Downtown Bend, East Bend, and Sunriver—remain open during this first phase of construction and remodeling.

WAYFINDER

What is Wayfinder?

Wayfinder is Deschutes Public Library's new way of organizing its collections. It is largely based on how bookstores have organized their books: by category. Wayfinder groups books into broad categories (such as Cooking) and further sorts those categories into subcategories (such as Vegetarian).

How does Wayfinder work?

With Wayfinder, we use categories and subcategories, making it easier to browse by subject or topic—similar to the way you would browse and find books in a bookstore. For example, if you're looking for a book with vegetarian recipes, simply head to the Cooking section and browse the books in the Vegetarian subcategory. You don't need to know that books on vegetarian cooking are found in section 641. You simply need to head to where you would intuitively find books on vegetarian recipes: the cooking section.

If you didn't come to browse and want to go to exactly the book you're looking for, you can find the book title in our online catalog. There, you'll see that after category and subcategory, Deschutes Public Library does use the Dewey Decimal System to sort nonfiction items with more specificity, which means you can go exactly to where your specific book is located on the shelf.

What about fiction books?

Wayfinder also organizes fiction books into genres—such as science fiction—for kids, teens, and adults. Are you ready to cozy up with a mystery? With Wayfinder, you can head directly to the mystery section in fiction to find the book you're looking for or to simply browse for your next read. Fiction titles in all age groups are categorized by genre, and then by the author's last name. Like in nonfiction, if you know exactly what book you're looking for, but aren't sure where to find it, you can use one of our computers to search the catalog. You can also ask any of our knowledgeable staff members, who are happy to help.

Why is the library using Wayfinder instead of the Dewey Decimal System?

While the Dewey Decimal System is still in use, more and more public libraries are stepping away from this older organizational structure in an effort to make books easier to browse and find. The Dewey system dates back to the 1870s and was created for a society very different from the one we live in today. Most public libraries long ago stopped using Dewey to organize fiction books, and today, an increasing number of public libraries are using a more intuitive way of organizing their entire collections, similar to bookstores.
